However, research candidates are expected to be enrolled, whenever possible, before the Central Commencement Program dates (ie 1 August for second half year in 2008).

As advised in the offer letter, an appropriate commencement date must be negotiated between candidate and supervisor. Scholarship recipients accepting the offer should state the same commencement date on both their candidature and scholarship acceptance forms.

5. HIGHER DEGREE RESEARCH UNITS OF STUDY

All research candidates are enrolled in units corresponding to their department of registration. These units may comprise of Time-Based units, Credit-Based units and Higher Degree Research Training (HDRT) units. Not all students will need to be enrolled in each of these types of units at any one time. The following is a brief definition of each type of units. A full list of all HDR units can be found in the Enrolment Booklet for New & Continuing Students - Higher Degree Research Units of Study at http://www.research.mq.edu.au/students/new_students/enrolment.

Time-Based Units (for all candidates)

In the Macquarie student system, all higher degree research candidates enrol in a degree program (Parent Study Package) and a research unit appropriate to the department in which they are registered. The research units are referred to as “Time-Based Units” - a term simply refers to units that only need to be enrolled once, usually at the beginning of the program. Continuous enrolment is then carried forward automatically so that students do not need to enrol in them again during their candidature.

Credit-Based Units

All professional doctorate degrees (eg DPsych, DBA, DProfCom and DAppLing) and some combined coursework/research programs (eg PhD/Master-Psychology) have a compulsory coursework component. Some programs, such as DBA, DProfCom and DAppLing require candidates to complete their coursework units before commencing their time-based units. DPsych and combined PhD/Master-Psychology programs on the other hand, require candidates to enrol in their credit-based units concurrently with their time-based units. These credit based units are registered as Higher Degree Coursework (HDCC) units.

Candidates should contact their respective department for advice on their programs of study and content of these credit-based units. A COP form is normally required for enrolment into these units at the beginning of each semester including the commencing semester. Unlike HDRT units (see below), fees are payable for most credit-based units, except for the HDCC units in DPsych & Combined PhD/M-Psych programs.

Higher Degree Research Training (HDRT) Units

In some Departments research candidates may be required to enrol in some research training units eg. seminar units or in some instances additional coursework unit(s). Enrolments in these units are usually funded under the RTS scheme and therefore do not incur tuition fees to eligible candidates. These units are referred to in the Student Management System as Higher Degree Research Training (HDRT) units and are normally listed on the front page of your offer letter. Candidates should check and discuss with their supervisor or a departmental academic adviser if they have any questions about these units. Candidates will be automatically enrolled in the HDRT units which are available in their commencing semester. For units that are not available in their commencing semester, or for any additional units that are subsequently identified, a COP form needs to be completed and submitted to HDRO for processing. Non-compulsory coursework units may only be added if they are considered essential for the candidate's research degree and must be approved by the Division. Enrolment in HDRT units is limited to a maximum of 4 credit points per semester.

6. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Please refer to the attached “Intellectual Property Issues” leaflet or visit our website <http://www.research.mq.edu.au/students/ipissues> for information on this issue.

7. ENROLMENT PROCEDURES

The Higher Degree Research Office (HDRO) administers the enrolment procedure for all HDR candidates. Most higher degree research candidates enrol once, at the beginning of their candidature. Candidature is continuous from the nominated commencement date. Continuing research students do not need to complete enrolment formalities each year unless they need to enrol in coursework or seminar units, additional to their time-based research unit (see previous section).

Enrolment procedures for new HDR candidates can vary according to the candidates' program of enrolment and visa status. All candidates should receive a detailed Enrolment Instruction information corresponding to their circumstances enclosed in their offer package.

Further enrolment inquiries should be directed to HDRO's Commencements Officer on 9850 9781 or email hdrenq@vc.mq.edu.au if you are a domestic candidate, or International HDR Officer on 9850 9784/ email hdrint@vc.mq.edu.au if you are an international candidate.

Continuing Candidates Enrolling in Credit-Based or HDRT Units

Continuing HDR candidates enrolled in time-based units are automatically re-enrolled in their time-based unit at the beginning each enrolment period. Manual re-enrolment is only necessary if the candidate is:

- required to enrol in Higher Degree Research Training (HDRT) units as recommended by the Division; or
- enrolled in a professional doctorate or in a combined research/coursework programs and thus required to enrol in coursework (credit-based) units.

Higher degree research candidates who are enrolling in any additional HDRT units must have approval for enrolment and such enrolment is processed by HDRO. All enquiries concerning content, availability and timetabling of coursework units should be directed to the relevant Department or Centre of registration. Please refer to the contact details of administrators in the Section 9 below or consult the appropriate Departmental web-site.

The following procedures apply for HDCC/HDRT unit enrolment:

1. Download the Change of Program (COP) form <http://www.research.mq.edu.au/students/forms> or pick up the form from HDRO reception counter.
2. Arrange a time in advance with your supervisor or academic adviser in your Division to discuss your enrolment requirements.
3. Complete the relevant sections of the COP form, obtain signatures in section 6 & 7 and submit the form to the HDRO by 31 March for first half year and 31 August for second half year.

Please note that if you have any outstanding debts including fees or Library fines, you must complete the payment in order to proceed with enrolment. Standard course requirements, such as examination requirements, apply for any such unit enrolment.

Further enrolment inquiries by continuing candidates should be directed to HDRO's Progressions Officer on 9850 7277 or email progressions@vc.mq.edu.au.

8. COMMENCEMENT PROGRAMS FOR NEW RESEARCH CANDIDATES

Knowledge of University practices and procedures at the beginning of candidature helps to greatly reduce problems and delays as research candidates proceed with their research and write their thesis. Therefore the University provides a commencement program for all candidates newly enrolled in research degrees. The commencement program, which consists of the Central Commencement Program (CCP) and the Divisional Commencement Program (DCP), is compulsory for all commencing HDR candidates, regardless of their programs of enrolment or study modes and must be completed within the first year (full-time equivalent) of their enrolment.

Your candidature will be officially confirmed when both programs are completed. Failure to complete both components of the Commencement Program in their first year of study will result in candidates being asked to Show Cause why they should be permitted to continue their program.

Central Commencement Program (CCP)

The Central Commencement Program, an introduction to University-wide requirements and resources for all candidates, is scheduled on 1 August for second half year in 2008. This is a full day presentation from 9.3am to 4.30pm with the registration starting at 9am. Tea/coffee, refreshments as well as lunch will be provided, giving you plenty of time for conversation during the breaks. Further details of the upcoming CCP can be found at http://www.research.mq.edu.au/students/new_students/commencement_programs.

We strongly recommend all commencing students to attend the CCP in person as it provides an opportunity to meet key staff within the University as well as other commencing research candidates. However, for those who really can not attend on the day, it is possible to complete the program online. To do this, you must notify the HDRO both when receiving the CCP invitation and after you completed accessing the program via <http://online.mq.edu.au/pub/ROCP/>, so that we can verify your access and update your record. (NB. Only students who are enrolled have access to this program.)

The Central Commencement Program usually consists of 3 modules:

1. Higher Degree Research and Progression
 - Undertaking Research at Macquarie: the early stages
 - Understanding Research: a Student's View
 - HDR Progression, Program Components and the HDR Office
2. University HDR Resources and Services
 - University HDR funding and resources to support research
 - Macquarie Library resources for your research
 - MUPRA perspectives
 - University Counselling and Health Services
3. Research Ethics, Intellectual Program and the Road to Completion
 - Ethics Committee Application and Process
 - Intellectual Property
 - Preparing a Thesis for Completion
 - The Thesis Examination Process

Divisional Commencement Program (DCP)

Divisional Commencement Programs vary in content between Divisions, but may be expected to comprise attendance at a Divisional orientation or welcome session and completion of a research training unit, usually covering research methodologies and/or research skills in the appropriate discipline and research seminars. General information about Divisional Commencement Programs can be obtained either from the HDRO website stated above in November and June for the coming semester or by contacting your Divisional research administrator (see list in Section 9).

9. HDR CONTACTS

It is important to stay in touch with your Divisional administrative and academic contacts during the period of your candidature. Once enrolled, they are often your first point of contact when you need assistance. Following are lists of administrative & academic contacts in each Division and Department/Centre for matters related to HDR students (if calling from outside of the University, add 9850 in front of the extension numbers).
